

1-877-654-1230 United Airlines Washington in office

Here's a detailed overview of the United Airlines Washington Office — including locations, contact details, and how the airline serves passengers in the Washington area:

United Airlines – Washington Office (USA)

Primary Office Location

United Airlines' Washington presence is primarily linked to its airport operations in the metropolitan area. One commonly cited address for a United Airlines local office/contact point in Washington is:

 71 Old Rockaway Blvd, Queens, NY 11430, United States — associated with support services connected to John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK). (airlinesofficedesk.com)

This address is often listed in airline directory listings as a local office location for United, though for most flight-related support you'll interact with airline staff at the airport terminals themselves. (airlinesofficedesk.com)

Airport Presence in the Washington Area

While United's office listings point to the Queens address, in practice the airline offers customer service and passenger support at several airports serving Washington:

 Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR)

United's major hub in the Washington region — most United flights in and out of Washington operate here.

Airport Address: Newark, NJ 07114

United operates extensive domestic and international flights, and on-site staff can assist with check-in, reservations, baggage, and flight issues.

✈ LaGuardia Airport (LGA)

United also maintains a service counter at LaGuardia Airport in Queens, providing ticketing, check-in, and customer service support. (www.AirlinesOfficeHub.com)

Note: United historically had limited operations at John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK), but most services shifted over time to Newark and LaGuardia. There are future plans for United to return more flights to JFK through partnerships with other airlines. (AP News)

United's Presence at Local Airports

Here's how United's Washington area travel support generally works

EWR – Newark Liberty International Airport

- This is United Airlines' primary hub in the Washington region.
 - Extensive check-in counters, lounge services (United Club), and customer support are available.
 - Most domestic and many international United flights from the Washington area depart from EWR.

LGA – LaGuardia Airport

- United Airlines operates a ticket counter and customer service desk here for scheduled flights. (www.AirlinesOfficeHub.com)
- Good option for short-haul and domestic travel.

JFK – John F. Kennedy International Airport

- Some listings associate the Old Rockaway Blvd address with JFK support, but United's flight operations are currently limited at JFK compared to EWR and LGA. (airlinesofficedesk.com)
- Future partnerships may expand United's presence at JFK. (AP News)
